(Bd, lxxxi. 18.) You say also, Life became long, or protracted, تنفس به العمر &c., mith him]. (A.) And تنفست رجلة + The rater of the Tigris increased. (TA.) __ تنفس The waves sprinkled the water. (S, K.) The bow cracked. (S, M, K.) It is only the stick that is not split in twain that does so; and this is the best of bows. And تنفّس in the same sense is said of an arrow. (M.) نَفْسَ app. signifies the same as تنفّس عَلَيْهِ الشَّيْء [.q.v. عليه الشيء

syn. رُوح: (Ṣ, M, A, Mṣb, Ķ:) but between these two words is a difference [which must be fully explained hereafter, though IṢd says, that it is not of the purpose of his book, the M, to explain it]: (M:) in this sense it is fem.: (Mṣb:) pl. [of pauc.] مُنُوسُ and [of mult.] مُرُبَّتُ نَفْسُهُ (M, Mṣb.) You say, مَا مُرَبَّتُ نَفْسُهُ [His soul, or spirit, went forth]; (Aboo-Is-ḥák, Ṣ, M, Mṣḥ, Ķ;) and so مَا مُا مُرَابُّهُ اللهُ (Mṣb.) And a poet says, not Aboo-Khirásh as in the Ṣ, but Ḥudheyfeh Ibn-Anas, (IB,) i.e., [Sálim escaped when the soul was in the side of his mouth; but he escaped not save] mith the scabbard of a sword and with a waist-wrapper. (S.) In the same sense the word is used in the but] فِي نَفْسِ فُلَانِ أَنْ يَفْعَلَ كَذَا وَكَذَا وَكَذَا this seems rather to mean, It is in the mind of such a one to do so and so]. (Aboo-Is-hák, M.) Some of the lexicologists assert the iand the cone and the same, except that the former is fem., and the latter [generally or often] masc.: others say, that the latter is that whereby is life; and the former, that whereby is intellect, or reason; so that when one sleeps, God takes away his نفس, but not his روح, which is not taken save at death: and is thus called because of its connexion نَفْسَ with the نَفْس [or breath]. (IAmb.) Or every man has نَفْسَ [two souls]: (I'Ab, Zj:) نَفْسَان the soul of intellect, or reason, also called العقل (رُوحٌ see النَّفْسُ النَّاطِقَةُ, whereby one dis-تَفْسُ التَّهْيِيزِ criminates, [i.e., the mind,] (I'Ab,) or [the soul of discrimination], which quits him when he sleeps, so that he does not understand thereby, God taking it away: (Zj:) and نَفْس the soul of the breath], whereby one lives, (l'Ab,) or نَفْسُ الحَيَاة [the soul of life], and when this quits him, the breath quits with it; whereas the sleeper breathes: and this is the نفس difference between the taking away of the of the sleeper in sleep and the taking away of of the living [at death.] (Zj.) Much has been said respecting the . id and the ; cewhether they be one, or different: but the truth is, that there is a difference between them, since they are not always interchangeable: for it is said in the Kur, [xv. 29 and xxxviii. 72,] [And I have blown into him of my spirit.]; not مِنْ نَفْسى: and [v. 116,] [to be explained hereafter]; not في رُوحي, nor would this expression be well except from Jesus: and [lviii. 9,] وَيَقُولُونَ فِي [And they say in their souls, or within themselves]: for which it would not be well to أَنْ تَقُولَ نَفْسٌ [.and [xxxix. 57 ؛ فِي أَرُواحِهِمْ say [That a soul shall say]; for which no Arab would say أَنْ تَقُولَ رُوحٌ hence, the difference between them depends upon the considerations of relation: and this is indicated by a trad., in which it is said that God created Adam, and put into him a زُوح and a وَرُوح; and that from the latter was his quality of abstaining from unlawful and indecorous things, and his understanding, and his clemency, or forbearance, and his liberality, and his fidelity; and from the former, [which is also called النَّفْسُ الأُمَّارَةُ, q.v., in art. أمر,] his appetence, and his unsteadiness, and his hastiness of disposition, and his anger: is the نَفْسُ therefore one should not say that same as jo absolutely, without restriction, nor the same as نَفْس (R.) The Arabs also make the discriminative نفس to be two; because it sometimes commands the man to do a thing or forbids him to do it; and this is on the occasion of setting about an affair that is disliked: therefore they make that which commands him to be a نفس, and that which forbids him to be as though it were another نفس: and hence the saying, mentioned by Z, فُلْأَنْ يُوَّامِرُ نَفْسَيْهِ إِلَى اللهِ اللهُ اللهِ اللهِي اللهِ الل a one consults his two souls, or minds]; said of a man when two opinions occur to him. used as a corroborative; (S, TA;) its mhole, (Aboo-Is-hak, M, TA,) and essential constituent: (Aboo-Is-ḥák, M, A, K, TA:) pl. as above, رَأَيْتُ فُلَانًا نَفْسَهُ , M.) You say أَنْفُوسٌ and أَنْفُسْ + I sam such a one himself, (S,) and جاءني بنفسه (see, under حَاءني هُوَ بِنَفْسِهِ (see, under the head of , a remark on that preposition when used in a case of this kind, redundantly,)] He came to me himself. And hence, (M,) رَانُهُ signifying نَفْسُ الشَّيْءِ (M,) نُزُلُّتُ بِنَفْسِ الجَبَلِ ,the sayings mentioned by Sh †[I alighted in the mountain itself]: and نَفْسُ t [The mountain itself is facing الجَبُل مُقَابِلي me]. (M, TA.) (Msb, art. قل.) The words of the Kur, [v. 116,] mean تَعْلَمُر مَا فِي نَفْسِي وَلَا أَعْلَمُ مَا فِي نَفْسِك + Thou knowest what is in myself, or in my essence, and I know not what is in thyself, or in thine essence: (Bd, K:) or Thou knowest what I conceal (M, Bd, Jel) in my نفس [or mind], (Bd, Jel,) and I know not what is in thyself, or in thine essence, nor that whereof Thou hast the knowledge, (M.) or what Thou conceulest of the things which Thou knowest; (Bd, Jel;) so that the interpretation is, Thou knowest what I know, and I know not what Thou knowest: is here syn. with عند; and the meaning is, عَنْدى وَلَا أَعْلَمُ مَا عَنْدى وَلَا أَعْلَمُ مَا عَنْدَكَ (K,* TA;) [i.e., Thou knowest what is in my particular place of being, and I know not what is in thy particular place of being; for] the adverbiality in this instance is that of مُكَانَة, not of مُكَان: (TA:) but the best explanation is that of IAmb, who says that نفس is here syn. with غيب; so that the meaning is, Thou knowest my hidden things, or what is hidden from غيبي me, and I know not thy hidden things, or what Thou hidest]; and the correctness of this is testified by the concluding words of the verse. [for Thou art he who well] إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ عَلَّاهُم الغُيُوبِ knoweth the hidden things]: (TA:) [and here it must be remarked that] العيب, which occurs afterwards in the K as one of the significations of النَّفْس, is a mistake for الغَّيْب, the word used by IAmb in explaining the above verse.
